

THE WAR CRY.

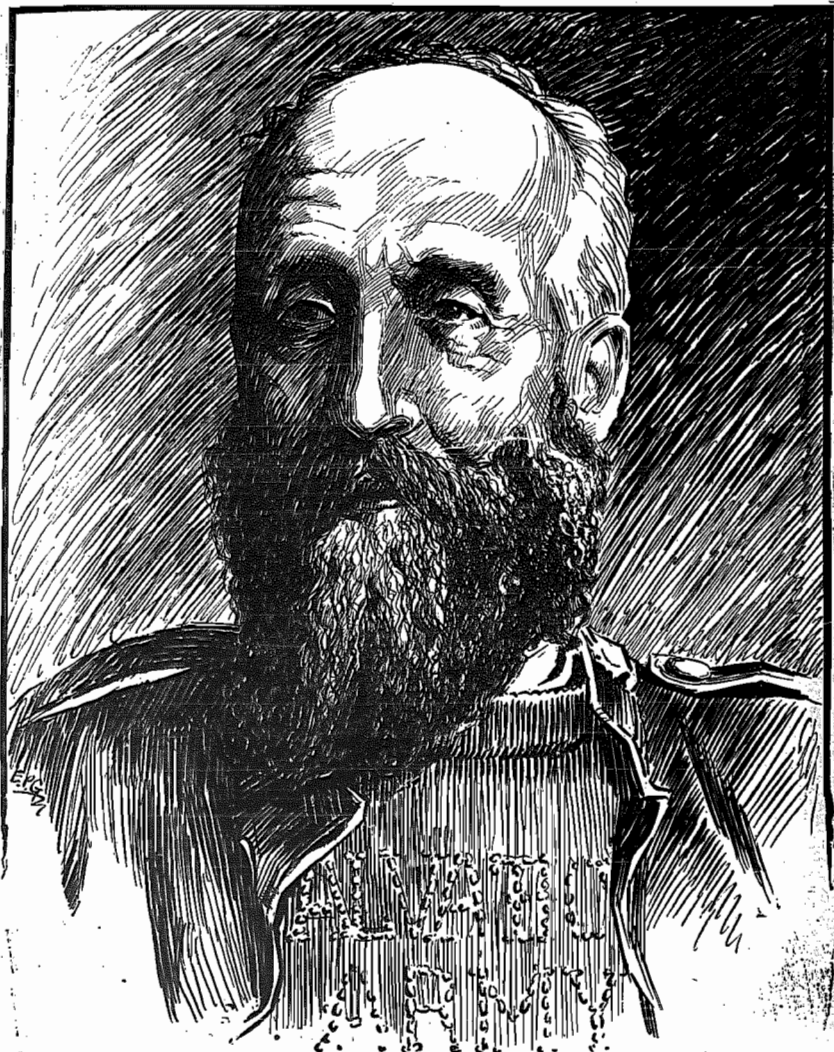

AND OFFICIAL GAZETTE OF THE SALVATION ARMY IN CANADA AND NEWFOUNDLAND

thirtieth Year.

W. BRAMWELL BOOTH, General. TORONTO, AUGUST 8, 1913.

DAVID M. REES, Commissioner

Price, Two Cents.

Commissioner Railton, who Died Suddenly in Germany.

(See Page 9.)

Down Sound Band (late Deputy-Bandmaster of St. Thomas). He is playing solo cornet, says W. E. and we find in him not only a good musician, but a deeply spiritual man. We hope to welcome Mrs. Wood and family to the Corps in the near future.

Accompanying a dauntily-printed programme of a musical meeting at Hamilton Bermuda, Adjutant Thos. A. Burton, the District Officer, sends a letter in which he says:—

"The meeting each Wednesday evening is in charge of two different Bandmen. For two reasons: (1) It has helped the Bandmen them-

With Instrument and Voice.

The final meeting, on Monday night, was well attended. The "V" took the service right through, and were quite brave while the storm raged. The members did some good rescue work.

Our Brigade also have been formed only eight months, under Adjutant and Mrs. Poole's direction.

Brother Dan Balmer has again taken up baritone saxophone in the Lippincott Street (Toronto) Band.

much brass pipe as you and spit it out again, and yet the people here regard it with an utter lack of enthusiasm."

Staff-Captain Pascoe, the Chancellor of the North-West Division, has kept in mind the interests of Band Chat, and has forwarded the following newsy notes:—

"Regina has launched a $5000 Band Instrument Scheme, and is meeting with splendid success. The Band is doing well under the direction of Bandmaster Henderson. An interesting fact came to light in connection with the welcome of Ensign Weir to Regina, in that he met Bandmaster Henderson after many years' separation. It appears that the Bandmaster, some years ago, went one evening every week to a neighbouring town, near to the one in which he lived, to give music to the little Army Band, among the members of which was a young man named George Weir, who has just come to Regina as Officer in charge!"

"St. James' and Winnipeg II. Bands also have Instrument Schemes on hand. The Swedish Band has recently been strengthened by one or two new Bandmen, who have been given instruction by Adjutant Larsson, the Corps' Officer."

"The Winnipeg I. Young People's Band will give a farewell festival in the No. 1 Citadel on Thursday next, July 17th, on the eve of its leaving the city for a ten days' tour through the Division. The lads will visit Portage Carberry, Regina, Moose Jaw, Weyburn, and Souris. This Band is increasing in usefulness, and is fast becoming the most popular Salvation Army Band of the Western Metropolis. The playing and singing is certainly very creditable, and the testimonies of the boys would bring blessing to you. Bandmaster Dancy loves his boys, and the boys love the Bandmaster. Brother Chalk, the Sergeant, is well liked. The lads will appear in new uniforms on Thursday night."

"Concerning the presentation of a number of new silver-plated instruments to the Winnipeg III. Band, a Winnipeg paper says:—

"The names of the Bandmen, together with the instruments they received, were as follows:—Bandmen Allen and Hughes, cornets; Bandmen Chuzens, Petrie, and Eastoe, horns; Bandmen Paul, Garzot, and Styles, baritone; Bandmen Yetman, euphonium (donated by Bandman Yetman, senior); Bandman Riden, trombone; Bandman Holgate, E flat bass."

"The cost of the instruments is about a thousand dollars, and half of this amount has been raised during the evening. The No. II. Band played several selections, and D. W. McKeercher, Esq., was the chairman."

"On behalf of the No. III. Band, the writer got permission to speak in the writer's name at the Central Congregational, and the result was an offering of over $200 for the Band. The No. I. Band, Dr. J. L. Gordon's Church (Central Congregational), and the Rev. S. D. Gordon (the well-known author, brother to the pastor), were also present on this occasion."

HOW TO BECOME A GOOD SINGER

You wish to sing? Why? Because you are longing to become a singer, or because you love music? Or do you really love the art? A self-satisfied person will not be candidly confessing that they want to sing in order to make a little money to be able to pay the rent of their house. Others avoid frankly that they want to sing because they have to earn their own living, yet they prefer singing to doing anything else, as it is least "so quickly and brings in so much more money in the end."

One thing is certain, whether you undertake without love—I mean love in the best sense of the word—not love of worldly matters—can not be accomplished. It is love—love for God, for nature and art, which made the ancient painters and sculptors so great, and it is the lack of this love which makes our modern artists so hopelessly small. The old idea is replaced by the desire of making money, to procure luxury. One must live, of course, and if an artist makes money by his art, well and good, it is perfectly legitimate. But to regard an art solely from the point of being able to make money out of it is absolutely to be condemned.

Art is serious; the pupil who wants to play with it should give it up; it is a grave matter to become a singer—Blanche Marchesi, on "The Teaching of Singing and the Singer's Art," in "The Musical Educator."

To this writer's clear and kindly remarks, we would add our "Anders" and remind our readers—the Singers especially—that the human voice can know no higher service than the service of God, which is when implanted in the best of cause men and women to "sing the love."

They who hold the leading strings of children may even exercise greater power than those who lead the reins of Government."

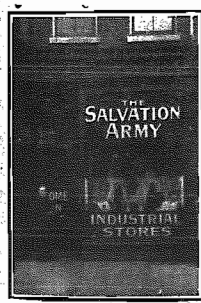

Aug. 9, 1913

BRIGADIER MOREHEN and Staff-Captain Cave have recently returned from their tour of Notre Dame Bay, which was the most pleasant and successful journey he has ever made around that particular part of the Island. This is, of course, from a physical and spiritual standpoint, as so far as the weather was concerned, that was not all that could be desired, which made the travelling at times rather disagreeable. Yet the spirit with which they were received at each Corps by the Officers and Soldiers, and the good meetings held, made the experience a very pleasant one, indeed.

The tour occupied about four weeks, during which time our comrades travelled about a thousand miles, mostly by motor boat, visited every Corps and Outpost, conducted thirty indoor meetings, inspected twenty day schools, and had the joy of seeing quite a number of souls at the Mercy Seat.

The Winter's Work.

Leaving St. John's on Wednesday evening, May 22nd, they reached Norris Arm next morning. Here they took a motor boat for Botwood, where they found Ensign and Mrs. Simmon's very busy preparing for the summer's work. The accounts these comrades were able to give of the winter's campaign were very encouraging. Under their leadership things are progressing. Cader M. Barter, who is conducting our day school, has also made some advance on that aspect of the work; has been somewhat difficult during winter owing to a number of our people having had to move into the interior of the country for logging purposes. But a successful winter campaign Botwood has improved wonderfully during the last few years, and being the port for the Grand Falls and Bishop Falls pulp and paper mills, Industrial Stores, Queen St. West, Toronto.

It is destined to become an increasingly important place. The Army seems to be alive to its opportunity and is rising with the town.

In the afternoon, the Ensign took the Brigadier and Staff-Captain over to Peter's Arm, where he had recently purchased a small boat in which he intends to install a motor. This will assist him greatly in visiting all the Outposts attached to his Corps. Here, too, they found Lieutenant French busy engaged in teaching a number of children at our day school, and were pleased to hear of the good results that have attended her work during the winter.

THE WAR CRUISE

On Tour in Newfoundland.

BRIGADIER MOREHEN and STAFF-CAPTAIN CAVE DO A MOTOR BOAT.

Peter's Arm is only a small village, but the people have showed a remarkable spirit of self-sacrifice in the way they have worked to erect a very comfortable Hall, a building which would do credit to a much larger place. The Lieutenant reported that she had quite a

A short year ago Salt Pond was visited by a forest fire, which destroyed the homes of the majority of our people, and also carried off their Hall and Quarters. The loss sustained was very great, indeed; but although very much downhearted, they did not give way to dejection, and as soon as the fire was past, began to make preparations to rebuild. Both the Brigadier and Staff-Captain returned to Campbelltown to conduct the funeral of a man who had died very suddenly. They afterwards left again for Farmer's Arm, arriving in time to assist the Brigadier with the night meeting.

Early next morning they left for Horwood, calling on their way at Comfort Cove to explain to Ensign and Mrs. Butler why they had not been able to fulfill their appointment.

Brigadier Morehen and Staff-Captain Cave at the edge of an ice blockade in the motor boat.

Adjutant Sexton, who has been in charge for the last year, has worked hard in the ruins of the old Hall he has erected a very fine building, which speaks well for the energetic way in which he took hold of what seemed an impossible task. He has also the foundations of a Quarters laid down, and very soon, all being well, will have a comfortable place to live in. (The people were very grateful to the Commissioner for the generous donation granted towards their new Hall.)

After meeting, the party had intended to return to Campbelltown, but they were announced to lead Sunday's meeting there, but the night being somewhat dark and much ice around, they decided to stay until daylight. The friends at Salt Pond treated them very kindly, and prepared a shake-down on the floor, so that they could get a little sleep before leaving.

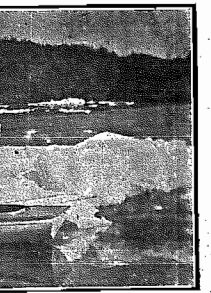

Early Birds. They arrived at Campbelltown at about five o'clock on Sunday morning to find that Mrs. Hiseock had everything nicely arranged for the meeting. The services all day were deeply spiritual, and much blessing was received. At night a number of souls sought the Saviour.

Adjutant and Mrs. Hiseock have been holding of things, and much good has been accomplished. Campbelltown in the near future will become a very busy place, as a large pump is in course of erection. Cadet Pippy is doing very nicely with the school, the inspection showing that she is painstaking in her work.

At noon on Monday the visitors left Campbelltown for their next appointment, Cottle's Island. They were surprised to see how quickly the ice had cleared out of the Bay.

Only a few hours before they would have been impossible for them to have reached their destination, but thanks to wind and tide, only a few large pieces now remained to mark the place where the great blockade had been.

At Cottle's Island they found that owing to some mismanagement of the mails the Captain had not received notice of their visit. It was not long, however, before the whole countryside knew that the party had arrived, and by meeting time the building was packed. On Tuesday morning the Staff-Captain inspected the school, after which he and the Brigadier set sail for Farmer's Arm. Landing the Brigadier there, the Staff-Captain and Adjutant returned to Campbelltown to conduct the funeral of a man who had died very suddenly. They afterwards left again for Farmer's Arm, arriving in time to assist the Brigadier with the night meeting.

With Sword and Saw. The Ensign has been very busy of late, repairing the Quarters, so as to make the house more comfortable for his little family. He has also a new Hall partly finished.

They also called at Dirich Bay (an Outpost from Comfort Cove) and had a talk with Father Cannings. The comrades here have been rather disappointed, owing to the building which they had erected having blown down.

The route to Horwood was somewhat new to the crew, as none of them had ever been through the Reach before. When questioned as to the wisdom of taking this route, one of them answered that the boat had to go where it was wet; but of course, her going depend on its being wet enough, and once or twice the bottom appeared nearer to her feet than was desirable. But on she went, and whether due to luck or to good seamanship, they eventually reached Horwood without mishap and in good time for meeting. During their stay here the Brigadier gave an illustrated lecture on the life of the late General, which was given valued.

Captain Coveyhead has put up a good light during the winter, and things seem to be moving ahead. The school is in a good way, and the time of visitation a number of children had left to assist their parents with the summer's work.

Vancouver I. Band at Okala Prison Farm.

Warden McMyun in front (centre), Major Simco, Ensign Raven, and Ensign Mandall are also in the group.

solves, both spiritually and musically. Several local people have spoken of the great improvement in the playing of the Band. (2) It has proved our crowds. My Corps Sergeant-Major told me that at our last meeting (July 6th) when the enclosed programme was given, we had the largest crowd on record. (About three hundred) for a Wednesday night service.

"We are having our Annual Picnic on August 14th, when I hope to get you a few pictures of some of our Bandmen."

In his testimony on a recent Sunday afternoon, Bandman "Joe" Duff, of Earls Court, Toronto, referred, with great interest to his comrades, to his love for The Army Flag, under which he had marched for over thirty years. One of the most cherished memories was the presentation of colours to the Notts I. Band (England), by The Army Mother. Brother Duff was a Bandman of that Corps at the time. We wonder if there are any other Bandmen in Canada who were present on that memorable occasion?

Bandmaster Arthur Knight, late of Bedford Congress Hall, has been welcomed to Niagara Falls, Ont.

An Army friend Mr. John Mercer, of New Westminster, B.C., recently took the Bandmen of the Corps and their wives for a trip in his launch up the Fraser River. The Bandmen played some selections and hymns during the trip, which was most enjoyable.

Mr. Mercer, one of New Westminster's pioneers, has resided in that city for the last nineteen years, following the vocation of fisherman. He originally came from Newfoundland.

The London I. Songster Brigade. This Brigade recently conducted a splendid week-end at the Corps. They had (says a correspondent) a Gospel ship erected on the platform and the Songsters (or crew), were in full sailor costume, which was very attractive. The meeting drew a good crowd.

On Saturday night, the Songsters gave a splendid programme, every item referring to sea life. On Sunday, the meetings were well attended.

The London I. Songster Brigade, with Adjutant and Mrs. Poole, who have now farewell.

FIRST ATTACK ON SOUTH VANCOUVER

An Encouraging Start—Staff-Captain White Leads Week-end Meetings.

The citizens living in South Vancouver were more than interested in the red streamer which was strung across the old Baptist Church in Fraser Avenue, announcing that "on and after June 28th, The Salvation Army will be holding week-end meetings."

Bandman and Mrs. Ellis, Recently married at Essex by Major Morris.

Army will fight the devil" in the above-named building. Interest changed into curiosity when each household was further bombarded with highly-coloured "doggers," announcing that The Army would "open fire" on Saturday and Sunday with "Attacks" at 8 p.m., 11 a.m., 3 and 7.30 p.m.

It was therefore no wonder that good crowds, good finances, and seven souls in the fountain rewarded the Officers' labours on that opening day. The No. 1 Silver Band rendered noble and sympathetic assistance to Staff-Captain and Mrs. White, who were in command, and conducted the first week-end "attacks" of Vancouver V.

Our Officers, Captain Roe and Lieutenant Simon, are full of fire and faith for a soul-saving awakening. On Sunday, July 6th, despite inclement weather, good crowds attended the meetings all day, and two little girls sought Jesus.

On Monday, July 7th, Brigadier Green conducted a special meeting, and four souls knelt at the Mercy Seat.

THE CHATHAM BAND.

A Visit to Detroit With Major and Mrs. Morris.

(By Wire.)
Detroit, July 27.
We have been visiting during this week-end by the splendid Band from Chatham, Ontario. Corps. The music captivated the hearts of great crowds, which heard the Band in the open-air and in the Citadel. The Bandmen acquitted themselves like true Salvationists, and the impression left will not soon be erased. The Detroit Bandmen and the Corps feel that they were highly honoured in having their comrades from over the border visit them. Major and Mrs. Morris, the Divisional Commander, accompanied the Band, and were warmly welcomed. Their singing and addresses will be remembered for the great blessing they brought to our people. The spirit of the one great Salvation Army was with us on this occasion, and we, with our visitors, rejoiced to see souls seeking salvation at the Mercy Seat.

The Detroit Corps says: "God bless Bandmaster Dunkley and the Bandmen of the Chatham Corps." We also thank the Chatham Officers for sacrificing this Band for the week-end.—A. E. Kimball, Brigadier.

WOODSTOCK BAND VISITS TILLSONBURG

Meetings Led by the Divisional Commander.

Major Morris, the Divisional Commander, with Adjutant Smith, the Chaplain, and Captain Wright and the Band from Woodstock, visited Tillsonburg on July 25th and 26th. The Band arrived in good time for the open-air and although many of the Bandmen had come straight from the city without having supper, they stepped out briskly to the music, eager for the fight. Two open-air meetings were held, the crowds increasing rapidly when they heard the music.

The musical festival was given in the Opera House, a large crowd thoroughly enjoying the programme. The Rev. Mr. Dewey, of the Baptist Church, occupied the chair, and gave an address in which he highly commended our work. On Sunday morning the Major conducted the Holiness meeting in our own Hall, his address proving a great uplift and blessing.

In the afternoon, a good musical programme was rendered by the Woodstock Band. The Rev. Mr. McBain, of the Methodist Church, was chairman. Mr. McBain, in his remarks, said that he had read of and had seen a great deal of The Army's work, and he especially admired and commended the work among the fallen and unfortunate, and was glad to give all the help and encouragement he could to the Army wherever he found it at work.

At the night meeting, fully 650 people were present. The Major, at the request of the Rev. Mr. McBain, had already addressed the Methodist congregation, and at the invitation of their Pastor, most of them came to the open-air. When the Band arrived, with the crowd following, the large Opera House was well filled. The Band played well, the congregational singing, led by the Major, was excellent.

A word of thanks is due to the Methodists and their worthy Pastor for curtailing their Sunday School and service, so that we might occupy the Opera House. The Woodstock Bandmen certainly worked hard, taking part in eight open-air services and four indoor meetings. They also played in the homes of some who were sick and unable to come to the meetings.

Captain Maves and Lieutenant Johnson, the Corps Officers, are doing well, and their arrangements were splendid. The townspeople treated the Bandmen royally, and everyone seemed delighted with the visit. About fifty dollars was secured for the local Corps.

BRIGADIER WM. MURRAY

Speaks in Sunday Evening Meeting at Toronto Temple.

After spending a few days in Canada, Brigadier Wm. Murray, Divisional Commander for Preston, England, who brought over a party of 150 immigrants, has left for his command. Before returning he spoke in Sunday night's meeting, conducted by Lieut.-Colonel Turner at Toronto Temple on July 30th. Mrs. Colonel Turner and Major Creighton also taking part.

There was a good attendance, and a refreshing feature of the meeting was the hearty singing of the part of the congregation. The Songsters also did well, and the effort of the String Band was a pleasing departure from custom.

Introducing the Brigadier, the Editor of "The War Cry" spoke of their having been stationed together for a brief period twenty-five years ago, and Staff-Captain Walton, from Montreal, recalled some happy appointments in Divisions of which the Brigadier had had command. In a brief address, the Staff-Captain, who was formerly in charge of the Temple Corps, also sought to turn the eyes of the people away from themselves to Christ, the sinner's Friend.

Having spoken of his appreciation of the opportunity he had of seeing Canada and of the benefits the Army had been to him, the Brigadier drew a striking contrast between the attitude towards Christianity of the Temple Corps, and that of the Apostolic Paul. The only life worth the living, he said, was that which was lived in harmony with God's purposes. He closed a powerful address with the effective statement of his own testimony, and in the prayer meeting, led principally by Colonel Turner, four souls came to God.

On Thursday, July 10th, Ligar Street (Toronto) comrades and friends welcomed home Adjutant Johnstone, who has been on tour in the West, and the Divisional Commander, who is now much improved, his health being excellent at the Sunday night meeting, July 13th.

On Thursday, July 10th, Ligar Street (Toronto) comrades and friends welcomed home Adjutant Johnstone, who has been on tour in the West, and the Divisional Commander, who is now much improved, his health being excellent at the Sunday night meeting, July 13th.

The Divisional Commander will open North Battleford on July 14th and 20th. The Salvation Army will accompany Adjutant Johnstone on this tour.

NORTH-WEST DIVISIONAL NOTES.

"Baby" Corps Progressing—Reinforcements Arrive—International Visitors.

(By the Chancellor.)
The Self-Denial Effort in this Division was a splendid success. All the Corps with two exceptions, reached their targets. The Officers and Soldiers are deserving of our thanks and commendation. Lieut.-Colonel William Turner, International Headquarters, London, recently spent a week-end in Calgary. I [already reported] conducted meetings at Regina, Brandon, and Winnipeg. I. At Regina, twenty persons came forward for salvation and the blessing of holiness. Regina, twenty-four; Winnipeg, thirty-two, and sixteen at Brandon. The Colonels' aid dresses, filled with the word of power, were productive of much good. He certainly is an interesting "Soldier."

We have also had a visit from Major Soper. The Major spent several days in Winnipeg, conducting and taking part in several meetings. His services were greatly appreciated. Captain Anderson accompanied the Major, and assisted in the meetings.

There has been quite an epidemic of weddings, the Divisional Commander being one of the happy couples.

AS THE REPORTER SAW IT.

Impression of an Army Wedding. It would be difficult to find a happier-looking lot of men and women than the Salvationists. They sing because they are happy and sing with spirit, and do not worry themselves about the technical rules of music. The Officers in charge evidently believe that a good laugh is not detrimental to religion, and a humorous reference always met with a response from the Soldiers of the Blood and Fire Banner.

The marriage ceremony itself was solemn and impressive, and made it all the more so that the bridegroom is thoroughly in earnest in the work of Christianity. Nevertheless, the chief impression that an outsider gets is that religion is exemplified by The Army is a happy condition which precludes the possibility of the members wanting any other interest to fill their lives.—The Dundas Banner.

Candidate Guy Harris, Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, who sold 257 "War Cry" and collected $35 for the Self-Denial. Our comrades in the West Division, and to Mr. Adjutant Broughton, of Lyster Springs.

On one trip, visiting no fewer than six or seven camps, the writer conducted a wedding at Moose Jaw, and was privileged to be present at the welcome meeting to Ensign and Mrs. Wier at Regina. Our comrades, who were warmly welcomed, were very tired after their long journey from the East, and we quite understood the Ensign when he said: "That was a lot of years ago, when the 'beginning' corps' picnic to Qu'Appelle was a splendid success. The playing and singing of the band were appreciated, judging by the liberal offering."

The "Baby" Corps are doing well. Latest reports to hand from Swift Current and Weyburn are encouraging. The Chancellor, concluding the opening meetings this week-end at Yorkton. [See report elsewhere in this issue.]

(Continued on Page 7.)

MAN life is a service, and the great men and women are those who render the greatest service. "Whosoever of you," said the Lord Jesus, "will be chiefest, let him be servant of all."

Here is laid down the principle that the greatness of man is to be measured not by his acquisitions and possessions, but by the greatness of the service he renders. No man is, or can be, truly great, except by this means. Wealth, gifts, honours, position, power, intellect, a man great, except so far as he uses them in the service of others, and even then it is the service which the means exalts him, rather than the means which he employs.

In God's Estimation.

The little factory lass I saw one day, who spends her scanty leisure and a large part of her earnings in the care of a fretful, ill-fed child who was thrown across her path in a Salvation Army meeting a year or two ago, is far more really great among men than the noblest of men, and more noble of her country, whose great positions and great fortunes and great names are alike devoted to ministering to the gratification of the senses. The toiling worker in the iron-foundry, who scarcely ever misses an open-air meeting, and who struggles on, Sunday after Sunday, year after year, with the rich Juniors, loving, teaching, yearning over them, it may be, more truly great in God's estimation than the M. P. who sits in the House of Commons for his Borough or the Bishop of the Diocese in which he happens to live.

AS THE REPORTER SAW IT.

Popularity of the New Circulation Scheme—Corps Repeating Their Increase Orders.

Still rising! Despite the dog days! There is, of course, nothing so refreshing as a "War Cry" for the dog days. The grasshopper being a burden? Not quite!

What do you think of this week's list of increases? One comes all the way from charming Bermuda, and another shows that Sudbury has made its third rise in three weeks. Well done!

Dresden (Captain and Mrs. Barber), 25; Swift Current (Captain Jones and Lieutenant Johnstone), 25; Hamilton Hill (Ensign Thompson and Captain Simons), 25; Sudbury (Captain and Mrs. Hancock), 25; Perth (Captain Bailey and Lieutenant Turner), 25; Prince Rupert (Captain Stride and Lieutenants Delamont and Hed), 25; Somerset, Bermuda (Captain Barelay and Lieutenant Holloway), 25; Kemora (Captain Hearing and Lieutenant Brown), 25; Rhodes Avenue (Toronto) (Captain and Mrs. Wilson), 25.

A total of 261 COPIES FOR ONE WEEK! and still there's more to follow. The new circulation scheme is all right, as many Corps commanding Officers are finding out. They are coming back for a second and third time.

West Toronto and Temple.

Lieut.-Colonel and Mrs. Chandler made a surprise visit to West Toronto, Sunday night, July 13th. The meeting was full of life and interest, and two souls knelt at the Mercy Seat. One man had been a Salvationist for a number of years, but found he had made a mistake in leaving The Army. During the meeting, the Colonel dedicated the child of Brother and Sister A. Lewis. Mrs. Chandler's singing, and the Colonel's earnest address, took hold of the people.

In the morning, the Colonel led the meeting at the Temple—an unannounced treat for the Soldiers and all present. The Divisional Commander's words were apt and searching, and one soul surrendered.

The Supremacy of Service.

HOW TRUE GREATNESS IS MEASURED.

By General Bramwell Booth.

Religion is not what we have, but what we are. Greatness is not in getting, but in giving—not in being ministrated unto, but in ministering to others. The noble man in the shipwreck is not the man who gets a boat for himself and rows away with his family to safety, no matter what his title or age or honours. The really noble man is he who stands by the sinking vessel till all on board are safely landed, and only begins to remember his own rescue when he is reminded of his danger by those he has saved.

But service may be prompted by many motives.

From a Sense of Duty.

Even those who serve one another for gain have some greatness which does not belong to those who never serve at all. And men whose service is rendered from necessity are greater in reality, than those who do nothing. Many a weary little kitchen girl, labouring on from morn till eve among the pots and pans without a "Thank you," simply because she must do it or starve, is really greater in the eyes of God than her splendid mistress who idles away her life in the drawing-room and the park. And service rendered from a naked sense of duty, without emotion or ambition or anticipation, purely because it ought to be rendered, that also exalts the worker.

The soldier who dies at his post, not because he loves it, or loves the cause for which he fights, or loves his country, or indeed loves anything, but just because the work ought to be done, because it is his duty to hold the post if he can—how we all feel that he is far above the people who sit at home at ease and do nothing but talk and eat their dinners!

Above All Others.

The Service, however, which exalts above all others is that which springs from love. That is the highest of all, and yet it is the easiest to render. It is nearest to the Divine, and yet it is nearest to man. It makes the slenderest duties into a ladder up which the lowest may climb to the Throne of God and to the Everlasting Reward.

The great distinction in the Kingdom of Heaven will be to be loved well. Here there are many things which lead to eminence—have been rich, to have been clever, to have been brave, to have been beautiful, to have been a great speaker or reformer or scholar—these and a dozen other means lead to honour and glory and fame. But in Heaven all such distinctions will be of very little consequence; there the best—may, perhaps the only way to glory—will be to have loved. That will make the Lord Jesus Himself the most wonderful and most Glorious Being in that Wonderful and Glorious World of Love. And in the same way our love will be our crown.

Oh, now are you getting on your crown? Are you loving the life of loving service? Are you giving of your best to the lost and to the poor, and the sad and suffering, and the glorious dying? Your fortune hereafter is subject to your good investment here.

Of the Highest Value.

And as much depends upon the kind of Service we render, so something will depend upon its form. What is the greatest of all? How valuable one man can be for another? Surely it must be to save his soul—to bring him back to God. As it is a greater service to feed than to educate, and a greater service to save a man's life than to protect his property, so it must be greater to save his soul than to save his life. For, even, than to do anything which affects only his temporal affairs.

Yes, that is the greatest service, and so they are the roots of greatness are really the greatest among men, who from love are servants of all, and whose service is to lead them to Heaven.

And here, again the way to the highest place is open to all. Any one can love, and any one who loves can seek and save the souls of men. The little child, the ordinary man, the timid and the slow and the unworthy, all, if they are but saved themselves, can save others, and so they are the roots of greatness. Father's glory with the Son of Man Himself, whose own chief title to that Glory is that He came to seek and to save that which was lost.

CONVERSION OF A DRUNK.

The accompanying sketch of Main Street, Orangeville, shows the position of the Corps for their Saturday night open-air.

Writing of some of the first services—the Corps has just been reported by Lieut.-Colonel Chapman as "Large crowds listened to both our meetings, and several men told me, whilst I was taking up the offering, how they had been blessed. In Sunday morning's Holiness meeting we had a wonderful conversion, a man who has been well known here as a drunkard, getting saved. He came to both open-air and the indoor meetings, afternoon and night, and gave his testimony."

At never known, Rev. Mr. Robinson (Methodist Minister) gave a powerful address. The Rev. Mr. Ricks (Anglican Minister) has also promised to speak.

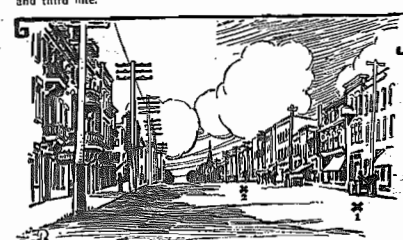

At never known, numbered one hundred people. Lieutenant Luxton gave the address.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.

Come ye yourselves apart and rest awhile. Weary, I know it, of the press and throng. Wipe from your brow the sweat and dust of toil. And in My quiet strength again be strong.

Come ye aside from all the world holds dear. For converse which the world has never known. Alone with Me, and with My Father here, With Me and with My Father not alone.

When you have read this paper, please put it to a friend who would not be likely otherwise to see a copy.

Main Street, Orangeville, Ont. The figures 1 and 2 show where the Saturday evening open-air meetings are usually held.

A Lifeboat Demonstration at London I.—The Songster Brigade as the Crew.

Niagara Falls, Ont.

Brigadier Cameron and Captain Eastwell led the week-end meetings, July 12th and 13th, at the old school house, the Corps and town. On Saturday, two open-air meetings were held, one in the southern part of the town, the other in the northern, the bombardment continuing from seven until about nine-thirty p.m.

Sunday morning's meetings were profitable. In the afternoon, along the banks of the Niagara Falls and river, open-air meetings were held, and the blessing and helping of large crowds of people.

At night, the Brigadier made a despatch account on air; and three souls surrendered.

Under Captain and Mrs. Noek, our Corps is making good progress, spiritually, financially, and unsexually. Says W. E. D. A number of conversions have recently taken place, and some of the converts are taking their stand in the open-air.

The Officers' Quarters have been improved, old debts have been cleared off, and our Band is improving rapidly, and rendering efficient service. We have recently welcomed the Knight family (late of Bedford Congress Hall), two members of which are Bandmen, and their enthusiastic assistance proves them to be of that type of experienced Soldiers which every Corps delights to welcome.

Brampton.

On Saturday and Sunday, July 20th and 21st, Captain Van der ven, of Territorial Headquarters, and Sergeant-Major Bell and his son, Harry, of Ligar Street Corps, were here. The Sergeant-Major, in spite of physical weakness, rendered good service by his singing and powerful addresses, says A. W. M.

On Saturday night, the Captain gave a lecture on Holland. The Junior Hall was filled.

On Sunday, the Captain's address on "Half-hearted Service," was an inspiration to all. "Bargain-counter Religion" was the theme of Sunday afternoon's meeting. Previous to the Captain's address on Sunday, soul-stirring testimonies were given by Sergeant-Major Sinden and Candidate Ding, and Brother and Sister Jeffries sang a duet. Captain Hood is on tour.

Swift Current, Sask.

Major McLean, Divisional Commander, paid his first official visit to the Corps on July 12th, wrote Captain Jones. He led a good open-air meeting. The Major's cornet solo drew a large crowd, and his words were listened to with great interest.

At the close of the open-air, we marched to the old school-house. A good crowd gathered there, and the Major's address was listened to with deep interest. Two souls came out and sought salvation. One had not been in a place of worship for forty-five years.

The meetings on Sunday, July 13th, were well attended. At night, one soul got soundly converted.

St. John II, N.B.

Two comrades from Yarmouth, N.S., Brother H. Delaney (a Candidate for the next Training Session), and Brother L. Misse, were with us on Sunday, July 13th. They had stirring meetings, says G. W. L., and at night souls sought salvation.

[Our correspondent does not give the number of seekers.—E.E.] Two backsliders returned to God on Sunday, July 13th.

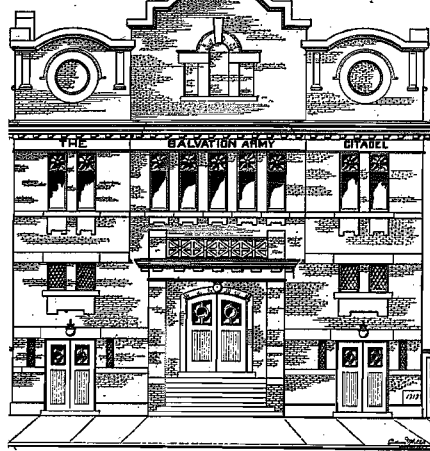

Riverdale.

Adjutant and Mrs. Cameron led the meetings on Sunday, July 13th. In the morning, Mrs. Brigadier Potter, Major Findlay, Captains Bonny and Dodd, and Cadet-Sergeant Shibley, took part. The latter was formerly a Soldier of this Corps.

At night, a memorial service for the late Sister Mrs. Paulkner, took place. A very impressive solo march was held from the open-air stand. The Hall, which was well filled, Brother Lamb, Sister Mrs. Farmer, and Sergeant-Major Bravley, spoke of the late sister's life. Her work in the Corps, and her faith, had always been a cheer and blessing. While the Band played the Dead March in Saul, a man came to the Mercy Seat, where he was followed during the prayer meeting, by four other seekers after salvation.

We sympathize with Brother Paulkner, who is the Corps' Colour-Sergeant.

On Monday, the Corps' Picnic was held at Bond Lake. About 300 comrades and friends were present.

—A new elevation at Kingston's New Citadel. In aid of this building, the Citadel recently conducted a successful whirlwind campaign. (From plan by Major Miller.)

also Lieutenant-Colonel Chandler, the Divisional Commander, with Mrs. Chandler. A very happy day was spent.

Toronto I.

Brother Heard, of Dovercourt, led the meetings on Sunday, July 13th, and his red-hot addresses, both in the open-air and in the Hall, were greatly enjoyed. At night, 22 Soldiers and converts were on the march. Three souls got saved.

In the afternoon, two coloured brothers visited us, and spoke. They appreciated the old-time spirit of No. 1 Corps.

Captain Van der ven led the meetings at Wychwood (Toronto) on Saturday and Sunday, July 12th and 13th. On Sunday night, Captains W. and H. Dray assisted, and the former on Sunday morning and night. Sunday's meetings were very profitable and interesting. Mrs. Van der ven took part at night.

Earls Court (Toronto).

Captain and Mrs. Weeds have received a warm welcome, and under their command the Corps is advancing. Their welcome meeting was well attended, and characterized by enthusiastic and sympathetic assurances from representative comrades, of fidelity to the Officers and their leadership. The Band was present in good force.

On Sunday, July 13th, twelve comrades were present at Kneecourt—a good sign! Interesting meetings were held throughout the day, that of the afternoon, when the comrades' testimonies, quite incidentally, were almost entirely on The Army's Flag, and what it had meant to them, being especially enjoyable. At night, one soul knelt at the Mercy Seat.

Prince Albert.

On Sunday night, July 13th, Captain Lawrence farewelled, says C. R. M. Four backsliders sought pardon.

The Corps' comrades have fought

Montreal IV.

On Sunday, July 13th, Captain and Mrs. Smith said farewell, after a stay of nearly two years, and a half. Throughout the day, every day of the Corps, pointed to their good work here.

At night, the oldest Soldiers of our Corps, Publication Sergeant Major Rogers, Treasurer Baker, and Sergeant-Major Dew, referred to the recent progress of the Corps, which is flourishing in every respect. The number of Soldiers and size of our congregations, not to forget the Band, with all played instruments, but two, showing something of what has been done.

Brigadier Rawling, our Divisional Commander, spoke of the esteem he had for Brigadier and Mrs. Smith. This, he said, was evidenced by his appointment he was giving them, Kingston, Ont. Majors Jennings and Hay also testified in the same manner.

Part of our night meeting was devoted to a memorial service for our comrade, Brother Coomber, who went suddenly to his reward. He was engaged with the Hon. J. C. Fleming, Premier of New Brunswick, and afterwards inspected The Army Hall.

Aug. 9, 1913.

A WEEK OF HUSTLE.

Lieut.-Colonel Turner Visits the Maritime Provinces—A "Tall" Travelling Record.

To the 3000 miles which Lieut.-Colonel Turner, Immigration and Property Secretary, has already travelled this year, on Army business, another two thousand were added by his recent trip to Atlantic seaboard and back to Toronto. What he accomplished in a week seems almost like a record for "hustling."

Leaving Toronto on Sunday night, July 6th, the Colonel arrived in Montreal early on Monday morning, and till 4 p.m., transacted business with Brigadier Rawling, the Divisional Commander. Taking the train for Sherbrooke, Quebec, the Colonel, between 9 p.m. and 10.30 p.m., inspected The Army's property there, and then with Major Jennings, continued his journey to the East, arriving during the next morning at Woodstock, N. B., where he had about an hour in which to inspect the Hon. J. C. Fleming, Premier of New Brunswick, and afterwards inspected The Army Hall.

Interview on the Train.

At 4.55 p.m. the same day, they caught the train for St. John, N.B., arriving at 11.15 p.m., and after spending a few minutes at the Hotel, the Colonel, accompanied by Major Taylor, Divisional Commander, left for Halifax.

Wednesday morning was given up to inspections and conferences with Major Barr, Divisional Commander, and Ensign Turner, of the Domestic Lodge, and at 3 p.m. that afternoon, the Colonel was off to Truro, Nova Scotia, on a journey to Fredericton, to interview, if possible, the Hon. David V. Landry, Commissioner for Agriculture for New Brunswick. Before long they discovered that the gentleman was also on the same train. The Colonel made good use of the time, and conversed with Mr. Landry as they conversed in Fredericton, the home of the Province's Parliament.

A Dash for It!

Being able to complete the interview on the train, the Colonel had just twenty-five minutes to spare before the train started back to St. John. Calling a cab, he instructed the driver to drive as fast as he could to The Army Hall, which underwent a ten-minute inspection, after having been in the hands of the painters and decorators for some weeks.

At 12 noon (Thursday) the Colonel was back in St. John, and at the close of an afternoon's business with Major Taylor, he went on to Moncton, where he rejoined Major Jennings.

Holling into Quebec at noon on Friday, the Colonel and Major spent some time at the office in immigration business, and interviewed, at the Provincial Parliament Buildings, Sir James Turner, the Governor. At 2 p.m. the Colonel was starting out of Quebec, and at 10 p.m. arrived in the Metropolis. More immigration business occupied the few moments between "clanking trains," and then with the conductor, "All aboard!" ringing in their ears, the Colonel and Captain Wright (Major Jennings' assistant) had, even other goodbyes, the Colonel continuing direct to Toronto, where he arrived at the open-air on Saturday morning, hale and hearty, and ready to admit that during the last six days, he had been "going zone."

Circumstances are things around us. We are in them, not under them.

From the Old County—Adjutant Murray, Brigadier Noble, and Brigadier William Murray, all of whom, having brought parties of immigrants over, were recently in Toronto. (Photo by Brigadier Taylor.)

As the World Goes By.

Territorial Headquarters.

A young woman Salvationist who was recently transferred to a new Corps is receiving the attentions of a young man in the Corps. She knows but little of him at present, and she is most desirous to do the right thing. She is anxious to discover whether he is a true man of God, a faithful Salvationist, and such a comrade as she might safely accept as her helpmate and life partner. To her this is naturally an important matter.

Of whom should she make enquiry concerning his character? What questions should she ask in order best to find out the kind of man he is?

We invite our readers to send post-card replies to these two questions. Post-roads should reach the Editor not later than August 15th. For the best set of replies we shall award of two dollars, and for the second best, one dollar.

"One of my first memories of Commissioner Raiton," says a "War Cry" reader, "is of seeing a man in our village in England, come running breathlessly up to my father and excitedly declaring, 'Old So-and-So's got a crazy feller up in de lane!' I was only a little girl at the time, but I soon understood that what had happened was that Brother Raiton—was still a Missioner—had met a relative of ours, a local Missioner, who was driving through the lane, and like Philip of old, had invited him to come down from his chariot seat, for a few moments of prayer together by the roadside."

If other readers would like to send us some of the interesting things they can recall about the late Commissioner, please let us have them at once.

Because it Holds by Thee, And when life's fiercest storms are sent.

'Twas life's wildest sea, My little barkie is content, Because it holds by Thee.

There are handlooms and handlooms, far more of them, are most praying for. The "Lure of King Edward VI." contained, we are told, the following remarkable and beautiful prayer, which was probably (Continued on Page 14.)

Celebrating Alexandra Day in London, Salvationists by the popular artificial roses, proceeds from the sale of which were given to the hospital.

SALVATIONIST CHIEF OF POLICE.

"Cleaning Up" a Town—Redcoats at Mercy Seat—St. John Division Notes.

The great opportunities which summer affords for open-air work are being tested by many of the Corps in this Division, with good results. Seaside and Rockwood Parks are thronged with people, and the St. John IV. and H. Corps respectively devote the whole of Sunday afternoon to park meetings.

The townspeople of Digby, N.S., are pleased to be again under the care of our worthy Sergeant-Major, Bro. Henry Bowles, who is Chief of Police. After many years of service, he resigned some months ago and accepted another position, but was requested to come back to his old job, which he did—with increased zeal!

Our comrade has been a Local Officer for over twenty-five years, and wears a Long Service badge. In his hospitable home, many Officers have been entertained when passing through the town, and the situation of our local Missioner, who was driving through the lane, and like Philip of old, had invited him to come down from his chariot seat, for a few moments of prayer together by the roadside."

If other readers would like to send us some of the interesting things they can recall about the late Commissioner, please let us have them at once.

Because it Holds by Thee, And when life's fiercest storms are sent.

'Twas life's wildest sea, My little barkie is content, Because it holds by Thee.

There are handlooms and handlooms, far more of them, are most praying for. The "Lure of King Edward VI." contained, we are told, the following remarkable and beautiful prayer, which was probably (Continued on Page 14.)

"One of my first memories of Commissioner Raiton," says a "War Cry" reader, "is of seeing a man in our village in England, come running breathlessly up to my father and excitedly declaring, 'Old So-and-So's got a crazy feller up in de lane!' I was only a little girl at the time, but I soon understood that what had happened was that Brother Raiton—was still a Missioner—had met a relative of ours, a local Missioner, who was driving through the lane, and like Philip of old, had invited him to come down from his chariot seat, for a few moments of prayer together by the roadside."

If other readers would like to send us some of the interesting things they can recall about the late Commissioner, please let us have them at once.

Because it Holds by Thee, And when life's fiercest storms are sent.

Commissioner Railton's Last Journey.

Continued from Page 51

Perhaps he knew something of too many tongues to know them all thoroughly, but he had a working acquaintance with them which was the envy of his comrades. "Going into a strange country for the first time, he seemed to pick up a conversational knowledge of the language as by magic and in a few days was surprising everybody by the fluency of his new vocabulary. He had sent patience with those whose great faith in the universality of the knowledge of English leads them to the false conclusion that, although among a foreign-speaking people, there is no need for them to learn any but their mother tongue.

easy for anybody to see who we were and where we were." In a day or two the famous "Ash-barrel Jimmy" was converted. Then the Commissioner went on to Philadelphia to present colours to the first two American Corps and then to open a Territorial Headquarters.

Changing the Name of The Army.

DESCRIPTION OF AN HISTORIC INCIDENT.

The Commissioner's connection with the incident by which the name, The Christian Mission, was changed to The Salvation Army has become historic.

"The adoption of the new name was almost accidental," he has said. "We were drawing up a brief description of the Mission, and, wishing to express what it was in one phrase, I wrote, 'The Christian Mission is a volunteer army of converted working people.' 'No,' said Mr. Booth, 'we are not volunteers, for we feel we must do what we do, and we are always on duty.' He crossed out the word and wrote 'Salvation.' The phrase immediately struck us all, and we very soon found it would be far more widely effective than the old name."

As International Representative.

HAD TRAVELLED OVER 300,000 MILES, AND LOVED IT.

Omitting only our late beloved General, we suppose Commissioner Railton was the greatest traveller in The Salvation Army. Eighteen of circumstances he could pride himself.

The simpler the style of his travelling the better he liked it. In personal luggage his requirements were almost apostolic in their severity. A hand-lug, a rug, and an umbrella were all he needed.

"The German fourth class (on the railroad)," he said, "best everything else. Why? Because he was among the people all the time, and could converse with them and hold meetings."

"I admit," he added, "that with all the baskets of vegetables (potatoes, fish, flesh, or fowls, or rabbits) the coach may get cramped almost beyond standing room. But even then I always think that the chance of giving up your seat to a weary old farmer's wife or mother, more than compensate for any temporary discomfort, and help more than a thousand meetings to convince everybody there that we really belong to the poor."

On the steambath his preference was sterner. There again he was among the people. "Our deck," he once wrote, "is almost covered with mothers, and babies either on their backs or in their arms, and as plentiful as if one were in a maternity hospital. But all that is only an appeal to any true Christian, who cannot but wish to not and know what life among the poorest is."

But even for such a stalwart his circumstances now and then made of that he should, like the children, "open his mouth, close his eyes, and take what was sent him."

He could generally make himself at home, however. "Thank God," he always said, "I was not a man of many questions likely to make me uneasy."

And after all these long years of exciting journeys he was still as young as a day. "Never a slip or a fall," he said, "and I never had a cold or a fever, and I never had a headache."

Now the Commissioner has taken his last journey.

The First "War Cry."

SOME ANXIOUS MOMENTS AT HEADQUARTERS.

Fittingly in the man who "wrote and wrote" to push the war, the Commissioner was in at the birth of "War Cry."

printing office of our own, recalling the event which took place at the old Whitechapel Press, and it was during the printing of "War Cry" that the Commissioner was in at the birth of "War Cry."

Interesting Letter From a Former Canadian Officer.

Writing to Captain Ashby, of Territorial Headquarters, Captain Edwards, now at the Jipar Settlement, Goolpur, India, says:—

"I write these few lines with a heart full of praise to God for leading me to this country. This place where I am stationed is among the opening of a new National Training Home, a well-equipped building to accommodate fifty Cadets.

A Soldiers' gathering on the Saturday night finished up with a first-class concert.

On Sunday morning, the Concert Palace, a renowned Salvation battlefield, was crowded, and the greatest sympathy, interest, and affection were shown by all classes for the work of The Army and its Leader. Sixty-two seekers came forward.

The city was stirred in the afternoon by a march of 1,500 Salvationists from the Temple to King's Gardens, where The General addressed a crowd of nearly ten thousand people.

This gathering, for years past a feature of the Congress Sunday, was admittedly of record and interest. The General's address was an attack on sin and selfishness, of circumstances he could pride himself.

The simpler the style of his travelling the better he liked it. In personal luggage his requirements were almost apostolic in their severity. A hand-lug, a rug, and an umbrella were all he needed.

"The German fourth class (on the railroad)," he said, "best everything else. Why? Because he was among the people all the time, and could converse with them and hold meetings."

"I admit," he added, "that with all the baskets of vegetables (potatoes, fish, flesh, or fowls, or rabbits) the coach may get cramped almost beyond standing room. But even then I always think that the chance of giving up your seat to a weary old farmer's wife or mother, more than compensate for any temporary discomfort, and help more than a thousand meetings to convince everybody there that we really belong to the poor."

On the steambath his preference was sterner. There again he was among the people. "Our deck," he once wrote, "is almost covered with mothers, and babies either on their backs or in their arms, and as plentiful as if one were in a maternity hospital. But all that is only an appeal to any true Christian, who cannot but wish to not and know what life among the poorest is."

But even for such a stalwart his circumstances now and then made of that he should, like the children, "open his mouth, close his eyes, and take what was sent him."

He could generally make himself at home, however. "Thank God," he always said, "I was not a man of many questions likely to make me uneasy."

And after all these long years of exciting journeys he was still as young as a day. "Never a slip or a fall," he said, "and I never had a cold or a fever, and I never had a headache."

Now the Commissioner has taken his last journey.

A splendid Army Hall, to seat 600 people, is in course of erection at Koenigsberg, the stronghold of The Salvation Army in the North-East of Germany. There are three Corps in this city.

The General in Denmark.

OPENING OF NEW TRAINING HOME—1000 PEOPLE HEAR ARMY'S LEADER IN KING'S GARDENS—COMMISSIONER MRS. BOOTH HELLBERG ASSIST—OVER 200 SEEKERS.

THE GENERAL'S Scandinavian Congress Campaign commenced at Copenhagen, the first evening being the opening of a new National Training Home, a well-equipped building to accommodate fifty Cadets.

A Soldiers' gathering on the Saturday night finished up with a first-class concert.

On Sunday morning, the Concert Palace, a renowned Salvation battlefield, was crowded, and the greatest sympathy, interest, and affection were shown by all classes for the work of The Army and its Leader. Sixty-two seekers came forward.

The city was stirred in the afternoon by a march of 1,500 Salvationists from the Temple to King's Gardens, where The General addressed a crowd of nearly ten thousand people.

This gathering, for years past a feature of the Congress Sunday, was admittedly of record and interest. The General's address was an attack on sin and selfishness, of circumstances he could pride himself.

The simpler the style of his travelling the better he liked it. In personal luggage his requirements were almost apostolic in their severity. A hand-lug, a rug, and an umbrella were all he needed.

"The German fourth class (on the railroad)," he said, "best everything else. Why? Because he was among the people all the time, and could converse with them and hold meetings."

"I admit," he added, "that with all the baskets of vegetables (potatoes, fish, flesh, or fowls, or rabbits) the coach may get cramped almost beyond standing room. But even then I always think that the chance of giving up your seat to a weary old farmer's wife or mother, more than compensate for any temporary discomfort, and help more than a thousand meetings to convince everybody there that we really belong to the poor."

On the steambath his preference was sterner. There again he was among the people. "Our deck," he once wrote, "is almost covered with mothers, and babies either on their backs or in their arms, and as plentiful as if one were in a maternity hospital. But all that is only an appeal to any true Christian, who cannot but wish to not and know what life among the poorest is."

But even for such a stalwart his circumstances now and then made of that he should, like the children, "open his mouth, close his eyes, and take what was sent him."

He could generally make himself at home, however. "Thank God," he always said, "I was not a man of many questions likely to make me uneasy."

And after all these long years of exciting journeys he was still as young as a day. "Never a slip or a fall," he said, "and I never had a cold or a fever, and I never had a headache."

Now the Commissioner has taken his last journey.

A splendid Army Hall, to seat 600 people, is in course of erection at Koenigsberg, the stronghold of The Salvation Army in the North-East of Germany. There are three Corps in this city.

based on the late General's life, and it went to many hearts like a message from the next world.

The skilful manner in which The General turned the meeting into a splendid lesson to The Army everywhere. In spite of the struggle against time and other factors, victory was gained: four souls lived at the Mercy Seat before this immense concourse.

At night the Concert Palace was again crowded, and before the close of the meeting six-seventy penitents came to the Mercy Seat.

It was a glorious day of Salvation fighting and victory, and was a fine tribute to Salvationism. Press comments, without exception, are unstinted in their praise of The Army's work for the people, and express assurances of its further success.

Commissioner Mrs. Booth-Hellberg, who stood at The General's side during the campaign, has been greatly cheered by the officers and soldiers are full of spirit and determination to carry the flag forward.

souls seeking pardon at the drum-headed man a touching spectacle.

Numbers of people were turned away at night when a fine battle for souls was led by Mrs. Booth, who, as in each meeting, spoke with remarkable force and liberty, not only obtaining the double translation to excess, hundreds standing. Following Mrs. Booth's appeal, many claimed sanctification at the Mercy Seat.

At night received salute of troops representing all Divisions of the Territory prior to a monster Salvation engagement in the afternoon in a lovely wooded park. Five thousand people, including all classes, stood here two hours, and were intensely interested. Four Colonel Duff and Staff-Captain Catherine Booth left valuable aid in the campaign, also Colonel and Mrs. Larsson, and Lieut.-Colonel and Mrs. Thykjer.

Speaking at an "At-Home" the other day at Shortlands, the Rev. M. Abel said one of his relatives, a minister, used to be visited by a "War Cry" seller. He also had a magazine which became so interested in the Herald that finally it learned to say, "War Cry." One day the bird found its way into church and at a critical moment in the service it cried out loudly, "War Cry," "War Cry," "War Cry."

Following his Councils with the Young People of Belfast, the Chief of the Staff met the Field Officers of the North of Ireland, together with the Men's Social and Assurance Staff.

Colonel Rothwell reports that the West Indian Territory's Self-Denial

Officers in Denmark—Announcing Some of Their Special Meetings.

zeland, was a lady who was at one time a Nihilist, and she served a long term of exile in Siberia. Upon returning home she found Salvation in Switzerland, abandoned her nihilism, and is now a staunch and enthusiastic friend of The Army.

Is announced that a "Life" of the late Colonel James Barker is now being written.

ESPECIALLY TO OFFICERS.

Their Magazine to Be Enlarged and Extended in Scope.

The General has now decided, says the British "War Cry," upon the far-reaching alterations in "The Field Officer," the influential magazine which circulates among English-speaking Officers of The Army throughout the world, and of which he is also published in some seven European countries.

Hitherto this magazine has been accessible only to Officers engaged in Field work. In accordance with a widely-expressed desire, its scope is now to be widened to include all Officers of whatever rank, Staff and Field, in every branch of Army service.

With the July number the name of the magazine will be changed to "The Officer," and its size nearly doubled—increased from forty to seventy-two pages.

The Editor of "The Officer" is Brigadier Alfred G. Cunningham.

Effort has been a success. "Owing to the scattered nature of the command, the magazine, the exact figures are not yet known, but there is every reason to hope that the total will be £320 (about $400), a rise on last year of £50 (about $750). These figures may not appear large, but for the West Indies, where there is so much poverty, and where the losses sustained in the earlier part of the year through the hurricanes and floods were heavy, the result is magnificent.

Commissioner and Mrs. Higgins recently conducted a series of week-end campaigns in Ireland, visiting Dublin, Portadown, and Lurgan.

Among the people who sat on the platform in one of The General's recent meetings at Lausanne, Swit-zeland, was a lady who was at one time a Nihilist, and she served a long term of exile in Siberia. Upon returning home she found Salvation in Switzerland, abandoned her nihilism, and is now a staunch and enthusiastic friend of The Army.

Is announced that a "Life" of the late Colonel James Barker is now being written.

Officers in Denmark—Announcing Some of Their Special Meetings.

zeland, was a lady who was at one time a Nihilist, and she served a long term of exile in Siberia. Upon returning home she found Salvation in Switzerland, abandoned her nihilism, and is now a staunch and enthusiastic friend of The Army.

Is announced that a "Life" of the late Colonel James Barker is now being written.

Officers in Denmark—Announcing Some of Their Special Meetings.

zeland, was a lady who was at one time a Nihilist, and she served a long term of exile in Siberia. Upon returning home she found Salvation in Switzerland, abandoned her nihilism, and is now a staunch and enthusiastic friend of The Army.

Is announced that a "Life" of the late Colonel James Barker is now being written.

An Interesting Career.

MISSIONARY TO MOROCCO TO ARMY COMMISSIONER.

When but a little boy, George Scott Railton had seen his mother strip the very blankets from the bed, rifle the house of its best, and go forth laden with the booty to scatter it amongst the poor. That was the sort of religion he came to love. His compassion for the heathen was aroused while yet in the days of his youth, and he acquired Spanish and started off on his own account, without a friend, as a missionary to Morocco.

His brother Lancelot, a Methodist minister, recognizing his abilities, afterwards advised him to study for the ministry. But he was far from satisfied. "He hated ecclesiasticism," says Commissioner Booth-Tucker, "with all the strength of his strong nature." It was not unnatural, therefore, that when he read the late General's book, "How to Reach the Masses with the Gospel," he should leave everything and give his life to The Army. That was, according to the late Booth, in 1873.

For a long time he was The General's Secretary. But when able to lay aside the pen there was no one more eagerly ready to take his place at the battle's front. He preferred to visit the poorest Corps, where the Soldiers were fewest, and the odds against him the greatest. He loved the open-air work, and would much rather preach on the streets than in the Halls.

"He hailed each new departure in The Army with satisfaction," says Commissioner Booth-Tucker. "On one occasion he marched on foot through England, bare-headed, carrying a red bannerette with the inscription, 'Repentance, Faith, Holiness,' striving thus to penetrate the towns and districts which had not yet been reached.

"At another time he conducted a continuous meeting for three days and three nights, shattering an iron constitution by the stupendous effort, invaliding himself for twelve months, and never entirely recovering from the effect of the blow."

In 1880 The General dispatched the Commissioner to New York, as already hinted, with a party of Officers, to take charge of the newly-begun work of The Army in the States. A year later he returned, his services being needed at International Headquarters.

In 1884 he was married to Sergeant Deborah Parkyn, of Torquay—the ceremony being conducted in the old Exeter Hall, London, by The General and Mrs. Booth.

Since then the Commissioner has been Territorial Commissioner for Germany, where, in the early days of our work, he endured much hardship, and more recently for France. For the last ten years, however, he has been occupied with literary work at Headquarters, and in travelling as an International representative, in which capacity he was in Canada as recently as last year.

months ago he made a rough estimate of the miles he had journeyed since coming into The Army, keeping, as he said, well under the totals. His statement is set out on Page 14.

He was never happier than when on a long journey. It was a continual source of education to a man with such keen eyes, and in all kinds of repentance begin."

"There was little need to say much by way of explanation of such plain language, but we prayed with them, and they were assured that they should know where to find us again as soon as we had a meeting-place."

There was no difficulty about the matter, for we were the first sent out in Salvation Army uniform, and as our red hats were made two inches and a half wide, it was pretty

One of the latest photographs of Commissioner Railton—on the right. He is seen talking to Commissioner Higgins.

as an International representative, in which capacity he was in Canada as recently as last year.

months ago he made a rough estimate of the miles he had journeyed since coming into The Army, keeping, as he said, well under the totals. His statement is set out on Page 14.

He was never happier than when on a long journey. It was a continual source of education to a man with such keen eyes, and in all kinds of repentance begin."

"There was little need to say much by way of explanation of such plain language, but we prayed with them, and they were assured that they should know where to find us again as soon as we had a meeting-place."

There was no difficulty about the matter, for we were the first sent out in Salvation Army uniform, and as our red hats were made two inches and a half wide, it was pretty

One of the latest photographs of Commissioner Railton—on the right. He is seen talking to Commissioner Higgins.

as an International representative, in which capacity he was in Canada as recently as last year.

months ago he made a rough estimate of the miles he had journeyed since coming into The Army, keeping, as he said, well under the totals. His statement is set out on Page 14.

He was never happier than when on a long journey. It was a continual source of education to a man with such keen eyes, and in all kinds of repentance begin."

"There was little need to say much by way of explanation of such plain language, but we prayed with them, and they were assured that they should know where to find us again as soon as we had a meeting-place."

There was no difficulty about the matter, for we were the first sent out in Salvation Army uniform, and as our red hats were made two inches and a half wide, it was pretty

One of the latest photographs of Commissioner Railton—on the right. He is seen talking to Commissioner Higgins.

as an International representative, in which capacity he was in Canada as recently as last year.

months ago he made a rough estimate of the miles he had journeyed since coming into The Army, keeping, as he said, well under the totals. His statement is set out on Page 14.

He was never happier than when on a long journey. It was a continual source of education to a man with such keen eyes, and in all kinds of repentance begin."

"There was little need to say much by way of explanation of such plain language, but we prayed with them, and they were assured that they should know where to find us again as soon as we had a meeting-place."

There was no difficulty about the matter, for we were the first sent out in Salvation Army uniform, and as our red hats were made two inches and a half wide, it was pretty

One of the latest photographs of Commissioner Railton—on the right. He is seen talking to Commissioner Higgins.

as an International representative, in which capacity he was in Canada as recently as last year.

months ago he made a rough estimate of the miles he had journeyed since coming into The Army, keeping, as he said, well under the totals. His statement is set out on Page 14.

He was never happier than when on a long journey. It was a continual source of education to a man with such keen eyes, and in all kinds of repentance begin."

"There was little need to say much by way of explanation of such plain language, but we prayed with them, and they were assured that they should know where to find us again as soon as we had a meeting-place."

There was no difficulty about the matter, for we were the first sent out in Salvation Army uniform, and as our red hats were made two inches and a half wide, it was pretty

One of the latest photographs of Commissioner Railton—on the right. He is seen talking to Commissioner Higgins.

as an International representative, in which capacity he was in Canada as recently as last year.

months ago he made a rough estimate of the miles he had journeyed since coming into The Army, keeping, as he said, well under the totals. His statement is set out on Page 14.

He was never happier than when on a long journey. It was a continual source of education to a man with such keen eyes, and in all kinds of repentance begin."

"There was little need to say much by way of explanation of such plain language, but we prayed with them, and they were assured that they should know where to find us again as soon as we had a meeting-place."

There was no difficulty about the matter, for we were the first sent out in Salvation Army uniform, and as our red hats were made two inches and a half wide, it was pretty

One of the latest photographs of Commissioner Railton—on the right. He is seen talking to Commissioner Higgins.

as an International representative, in which capacity he was in Canada as recently as last year.

months ago he made a rough estimate of the miles he had journeyed since coming into The Army, keeping, as he said, well under the totals. His statement is set out on Page 14.

He was never happier than when on a long journey. It was a continual source of education to a man with such keen eyes, and in all kinds of repentance begin."

"There was little need to say much by way of explanation of such plain language, but we prayed with them, and they were assured that they should know where to find us again as soon as we had a meeting-place."

There was no difficulty about the matter, for we were the first sent out in Salvation Army uniform, and as our red hats were made two inches and a half wide, it was pretty

One of the latest photographs of Commissioner Railton—on the right. He is seen talking to Commissioner Higgins.

as an International representative, in which capacity he was in Canada as recently as last year.

months ago he made a rough estimate of the miles he had journeyed since coming into The Army, keeping, as he said, well under the totals. His statement is set out on Page 14.

He was never happier than when on a long journey. It was a continual source of education to a man with such keen eyes, and in all kinds of repentance begin."

"There was little need to say much by way of explanation of such plain language, but we prayed with them, and they were assured that they should know where to find us again as soon as we had a meeting-place."

There was no difficulty about the matter, for we were the first sent out in Salvation Army uniform, and as our red hats were made two inches and a half wide, it was pretty

One of the latest photographs of Commissioner Railton—on the right. He is seen talking to Commissioner Higgins.

as an International representative, in which capacity he was in Canada as recently as last year.

months ago he made a rough estimate of the miles he had journeyed since coming into The Army, keeping, as he said, well under the totals. His statement is set out on Page 14.

He was never happier than when on a long journey. It was a continual source of education to a man with such keen eyes, and in all kinds of repentance begin."

"There was little need to say much by way of explanation of such plain language, but we prayed with them, and they were assured that they should know where to find us again as soon as we had a meeting-place."

There was no difficulty about the matter, for we were the first sent out in Salvation Army uniform, and as our red hats were made two inches and a half wide, it was pretty

One of the latest photographs of Commissioner Railton—on the right. He is seen talking to Commissioner Higgins.

as an International representative, in which capacity he was in Canada as recently as last year.

months ago he made a rough estimate of the miles he had journeyed since coming into The Army, keeping, as he said, well under the totals. His statement is set out on Page 14.

He was never happier than when on a long journey. It was a continual source of education to a man with such keen eyes, and in all kinds of repentance begin."

"There was little need to say much by way of explanation of such plain language, but we prayed with them, and they were assured that they should know where to find us again as soon as we had a meeting-place."

There was no difficulty about the matter, for we were the first sent out in Salvation Army uniform, and as our red hats were made two inches and a half wide, it was pretty

One of the latest photographs of Commissioner Railton—on the right. He is seen talking to Commissioner Higgins.

as an International representative, in which capacity he was in Canada as recently as last year.

months ago he made a rough estimate of the miles he had journeyed since coming into The Army, keeping, as he said, well under the totals. His statement is set out on Page 14.

He was never happier than when on a long journey. It was a continual source of education to a man with such keen eyes, and in all kinds of repentance begin."

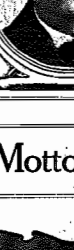

"There was little need to say much by way of explanation of such plain language, but we prayed with them, and they were assured that they should know where to find us again as soon as we had a meeting-place."

There was no difficulty about the matter, for we were the first sent out in Salvation Army uniform, and as our red hats were made two inches and a half wide, it was pretty stock; telegrapher; blue eyes, large nose; may have grown a beard.

 OLGA NATALIE BLIZ, Age 54
 Russian, light complexion, light blue eyes, short wavy hair, dimple in each cheek may be hidden or abundant in some school or institution; has been seen for this board for the West; may be la-incepuer or some other Western type

Mottoes

535-

"Christ Is the Head" or 1234. Price... 30c
 4-wide Motto is now imitation velvet, with production in fine colors after Thorwaldsen's name unto Me." In this design form it is expected thousands. Be the first of your district. Order

"Rose Garlanda" Series.
 or corded. Price... 50c artistically worked in red board to the border.

ARMY SONGS

Tunes.—I hear Thy welcome voice,
69; Nearer my home, 71.
1 Before Thy face, dear Lord,
Myself I want to see;
And while I every question sing,
I want to answer Thee.

Chorus.
While I speak to Thee,
Lord, Thy goodness show;
Am I what I ought to be?
O Saviour, let me know!

Am I what once I was?
Have I that ground maintained
Wherein I walked in power with Thee
And Thou my soul sustained?
Do I possess a heart
In thought and action clear?
From Monday morn till Sunday eve
Has my salvation been?

Tunes.—Rosseau, 89; Wells, 91;
Song Book, 374.
2 Oh, dislodge Thy lovely face!
Quicken all my drooping powers.

Gasp my fainting soul for grace,
As a thirsty land for showers,
Haste, my Lord, no more delay;
Come, my Saviour, come away!

Dark and cheerless is the morn,
Unaccompanied by Thee!
Joyless is the day's return,
Till Thy mercy's beams I see;
Till Thou inward light impart,
Glad my eyes and warm my heart.

Visit, then, this soul of mine,
Pierce the gloom of sin and grief;
Fill me, Radiance Divine:
Scatter all my unbelief;
More and more Thyself display,
Shining to the perfect day.

Tunes.—Praise, 139; Come, comrades,
dear, 126; He lives, 138;
Song Book, 239.

3 Come, comrades dear, who love
the Lord,
Who taste the sweets of Jesus' word,
In Jesus' ways go on;
Our troubles and our trials here
Will only make us richer there.
When we arrive at home.

We feel that Heaven is now begun;
It issues from the sparkling throne,
From Jesus' throne on high.
It comes in floods we can't contain,
We drink, and drink, and drink again.

And yet we still are dry.

Tune.—For you I am praying, 227.
4 Out on the broad way
Of darkness and danger,
Oh, why will you longer
A prodigal roam?
You're rushing so madly
To Hell and destruction—
Oh, pause and consider
Your terrible doom!

Chorus.
For you I am praying, etc.
Hard do you prove is
The way of transgressors,
Briers and thorns
All your pathway bestrew;
Oh, death and eternity
Soon will engulf you,
Say, if unprepared,
Sinner, what will you do?

Do not despair, there is Cleansing and healing
Now flowing for thee
In the life-giving stream.
O wounded and weary one,
Tarry no longer,
Come to its waters,
Oh, wash and be clean!

The Field Day, which was to have taken place at Clarkson's on Aug.
4th, is, for various reasons, postponed.

THE GENERAL TO VISIT CANADA

GENERAL W. BRAMWELL BOOTH will (D.V.) visit the Dominion during the first week of November next. According to present plans, he will conduct the Fall Congress in Toronto, and will also visit other large centres. Further particulars will be announced later.

Newfoundland Congress

THE COMMISSIONER

Accompanied by

Colonel Maidment (Chief Secretary).

MAJOR DESBRISAY, AND ADJUTANT DEBOW, WILL VISIT NEWFOUNDLAND, AND CONDUCT CONGRESS GATHERINGS AS FOLLOWS:—

SATURDAY, AUGUST 14TH.—Great welcome meeting in the St. John's Citadel.
SUNDAY, AUGUST 15TH.—11 a.m., United Holiness Meeting.
3 P.M.—Lecture in the College Hall. Subject: "The Life and Work of General William Booth."
7 P.M.—Salvation meeting in the MONDAY, TUESDAY, AND WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 16TH COUNCILS for Officers and Teachers.

STAFF-CAPTAIN PEACOCK.
Winnipeg 11, August 3.

ADJUTANT HARKIRK.
Ingersoll, August 9 and 10.

ADJUTANT BYERS.
Sydney, July 31.
North Sydney, August 2.
Sydney Mines, August 2 and 3.
North Sydney, August 4.

"The War Cry" for August 23rd. Special Memorial Number.

Sherbrooke.

For the week-end, July 12th and 13th, we were visited by the Montreal I. Instrumental Quartette. The musical meeting on Saturday evening was much enjoyed by a good crowd. "Lightning Sketches" by Deputy-Bandmaster Goodier, was a novelty. Violin, horn, euphonium, trombone, and vocal solos, together with other interesting numbers, made a splendid programme.

The meetings on Sunday were well attended, and many spoke of the good they had received. The quartette also rendered good programmes at 3 p.m. and from 9 to 10 p.m. on Sunday.

Cadet Hill is assisting Lieutenant Mardall while Captain Thompson is on furlough.

Sudbury, Ont.

Good meetings all day Sunday, July 13th. At night, a backslider returned to God. Recruits are doing well, one of whom, of only three weeks' standing, has just gained a personal victory, by coming out to open-air, and on Sunday last he also carried the flag. Although we have no regular soldiers, with our four recruits we hope to double our Soldiers' roll.

Huntsville, Ont.

Last Sunday's (July 13th), meetings resulted in the salvation of two souls. On Thursday night, says L. R., we had a musical meeting. Captain Crawford has arranged a special meeting for every Thursday night. On Saturday evening we hold two open-air, instead of having an inside meeting. Prospects good.

Saskatoon.

The first welcome meeting to Captain and Mrs. Bourne, our new Officers, was held on Thursday, July 3rd, when the power of God was manifested, and the comrades were inspired with a greater zeal for the extension of God's Kingdom.

On the following Sunday, the meetings were well attended. A large crowd gathered at night. Captain Bourne, in his address, emphatically announced that his greatest desire was to help men and women into the Kingdom of God. At the close of last Sunday's meetings, five souls knelt at the Mercy Seat.

Rhodes Avenue (Toronto).

Two souls sought full salvation in the morning meeting on Sunday, July 13th, and two more surrendered at night, when Bandsman Warklin, of Dovercourt, took part. Captain and Mrs. George Wilson led all the meetings, of which the attendance of Soldiers and converts at the open-air was a feature. The comrades are in splendid fighting order.

Shelbourne, N.S.

Week-end meetings, July 12th and 13th, were led by our own Officers, Captain Hardy and Lieutenant Chambers. Good crowds attended, the Saturday night meeting seeing a record number present. The Captain's special Thursday night subjects are an attraction.

At Trenton, five souls have lately sought pardon of sins. This, the Officers and comrades believe, is the outcome of their decision to set apart ten minutes of each day during a certain week, for special prayer for the unconverted.

INVASION OF NORTH BATTLEFORD

Major McLean Leads Opening Attack—Enthusiastic Welcome (By Wire)

Saskatoon, July 21.—Mrs. McLean and myself had the pleasure of opening up the work of The Salvation Army at North Battleford during last week-end, July 19th and 20th. Great crowds attended the open-air meetings, and gave The Army an enthusiastic welcome in their city.

The opening meetings were held in the Duchess Theatre, and we had good audiences.

Two souls volunteered for salvation, and twenty persons requested prayer.

The prospects for our work in North Battleford are exceptionally bright. Adjutant Sheppard and Captain McLennan, are the Officers in charge.—J. S. McLean, here.

INTERNATIONAL APPOINTMENTS

Chief Secretary for New Zealand
The General has, we are glad to announce, appointed Lieut. Colonel Powley to be Chief Secretary for the New Zealand Territory under Commissioner Richards, and it is expected that the Colonel and Mrs. Powley, with their five children, will sail from England on August 15.

Lieut. Colonel Hoe, of the Foreign Office, is appointed to assist Lieut. Colonel Powley as General Secretary at the International Training College, under Commissioner McKie.

Staff-Captain William Roberts, of International Headquarters, is appointed General Secretary in Lieut. Colonel de Groot, for June.

"THE GIDEONS" ARRIVE

Gathering of Christian Comrades
"The Gideons," or Christian Commercial Travelling Men, are coming to Canada, if they are not already here, for their first International Convention. These meetings have in the past been held in the United States, and the one to be held in Toronto is the fourteenth national and the first international convention.

SALVATIONIST CHIEF OF POLICE

(Continued from Page 11)
week. Our sorrowing comrades will be remembered in prayer.

Major and Mrs. Taylor, his successful week-end in Saskatoon, where 3,500 military soldiers have been in camp. The "Gideons" have given in hundreds of the "Gideon's services and packed the Hall with them standing. Cory and Arthur Taylor, also Miss Lane, of St. John, rendered good service with music and singing. The song came to the Mercy Seat, where they were singing. The song was "The Gideons' Song," which arrived safely in Yarmouth and has had a good start. The new officers from the Training College are doing well, and we extend to all arrivals a very hearty welcome.

[The kind of notes will be coming again soon.—Ed.]

Norland.

On Wednesday night, July 14th, we had with us Staff-Captain and Mrs. Bloss, from Toronto, and Captain Davis, of Fenelon Falls, and S. W. They conducted a splendid meeting of music and song. The Hall was packed. The Rev. A. H. Hall was present. The Rev. A. H. Hall, of the Methodist Church, gave an address. Lieutenant McCaughy is in charge. The work is making progress.

The Next Sessions for Field and Social Work commence on Thursday Sept. 25th.

Make Haste and Apply!